GUARANTEED FOR FIVE YEARS

Why this Stove Makes Warm Floors

The hottest part of the fire being always against the fire pot as illustrated above, the greater part of the heat is radiated downward, heating the floor much more than a baseburner does. Two or three tons of slack or soft coal will heat the ordinary house, giving as continuous and uniform heat as heretofore could only be obtained with a hard coal baseburner.

We also carry a full line of all kinds of heater prices lower than the lowest. We have a big stock and must sell them.

MARIE MANNING,
Author of "Lord Allingham, Bankrupt"

Copyright, 1903, by Harper & Brothers

"Who ever heard of a girl leader that wasn't a fine thrasher in the bargain?" She swung the chair about with a pivotal motion, as if she were addressing an assemblage instead of a single listener, and then, bethinking herself of a clinking illustration, she called aloud to Eudora to bear witness. "Eudora! Eudora! You do-ry!"

"Yes, ma'am," drawled the daughter, coming most unwillingly from the open faced room opposite, where she had been inciting all four of the suitors to battle.

"What was it they called that teacher down to Caspar that lapped the hide off'n the boys?"

"A fine dis-a-ple-narian, maw."

"Yes, that's it—a dis-a-ple-narian. What kin a little green gourd like her know 'bout dis-a-ple-n'ry?"

"Your remarks shore remind me of a sayin' that 'the discomfort of havin' to swallow other folks' dust causes a heap of anxiety over their reckless drivin'."

Mary Carmichael, in one of the inner rooms, was writing a home letter, which was chiefly remarkable for what it failed to relate. It gave long accounts of the scenery, it waxed didactic over the future of the country, but the adventures of the trip, with her incidental acquaintance with the Daxses and Chungs, were not recorded. Eudora announced the arrival of Mrs. Yellett, and Mary, at the news, dropped the contents of her portfolio and started up with much the feeling a marooned sailor might have on hearing a sail has been sighted. At this particular stage of her career Miss Carmichael had not developed the philosophy that later in life was destined to become her most valuable asset. Her sense of humor no longer responded to the vagaries of pioneer life. The comedy element was coming a little too thick and fast. She was getting a bit heart sick for a glimpse of her own kind, a word with some one who spoke her language. And here, at last, was the woman who had written such a charming letter, who had so graciously intimated that there was room for her at the hearthstone. Mary was, indeed, eager to make the acquaintance of Mrs. Yellett.

To the end of her life she never forgot that first meeting—the perfect confidence with which she followed Eudora to the open room, the ensuing blank amazement, the utter inability to reconcile the Mrs. Yellett of the letter with the Mrs. Yellett of fact. The lamp on the table, burning feebly, seemed to burst into a thousand shooting stars as the girl struggled with her tears. Home was so far, and Mrs. Yellett was so different from what she had expected! And yet, as she felt her fingers crush in the grip of that hard but not unkindly hand, there was in the woman's rugged personality a sustaining quality, and, thinking again of Archie's prospects, Mary was not altogether sorry that she had come.

"You be a right smart young maverick not to get lost none on this long trail, and no one to pint you right if you strayed," commented Mary's patroness affably. "But we won't roominate here no longer than we can help. It's too hard on old Ma'am Rodney. She's just 'bout the color of withered cabbage now. 'Long of me havin' you."

While she talked Mrs. Yellett picked up Mary's trunk and bags and stowed them in the back of the buckboard with the ease with which another woman might handle pasteboard boxes. One or two of the male Rodney's offered to help, but she waved them aside and lashed the luggage to the buckboard, handling the ropes with the skill of an old sailor. The entire Rodney family and the suitors of Eudora assembled to witness the departure. "It's a heap friendly of you to fret so," was the parting stab of Sarah Yellett to Sally Rodney, and she swung the buckboard around, cleared the cactus stumps in the Rodney dooryard and gained the mountain road.

"Ai-yi!" said old Sally. "What's this country comin' to?"

"A few more women, thank God!" remarked Ira. Eudora had just snubbed him, and he put a wealth of meaning into his look after the vanishing buckboard.

They had gone a good two miles before Mary's patroness broke the silence with: "Nothin' plumb stampedes my temper like that Rodney outfit—old Sally buckin' an' pitchin' in her rockin' chair same as if she was breakin' a broncho, an' that Eudora always coral-lin', deceivin' an' jiltin' one outfit of men after another. If she was a daughter of mine I'd medjure her length across my knee, full growned an' courted though she is. The only one of the outfit that's wuth while is Judith, an' she ain't old woman Rodney's girl neither. You heared that already, did you? Well, this yere country may be lackin' in population, but it's handy as a sewin' circle in distributin' news."

Mary mentioned Leander. "Yes," answered Mrs. Yellett reflectively, "Leander's mouth do run about eight and a half octaves. Sometimes I don't blame his wife for bangin' down the lid."

They talked of Jim Rodney's troubles and the growing hatred between sheep and cattle men because of range rights.

"Now, that pore Jim had a heap of good citizen in him before that pestiferous cattle outfit druv his sheep over the cliff. Relations twist sheep and cattle men in this yere country is strained beyant the goin' back place, I can tell you. My pistol eye ain't had a wink of sleep for nigh on eighteen months, an' I'm broke to wakefulness same as a teethin' babe."

"Jim was wild as a coyote 'fore he marries that girl. She come all the way from Topeka, Kan., thinkin' she was goin' to find a respectable home, an' when she come out hyeah an' found the place was a dance hall she cried all the time. She didn't add none to the hilarity of the place. An' one day Jim he strolled in, an' seein' the girl a-cryin' like a frosheet an' wishin' she was dead, he inquired the cause. She told him how that old hawpy wrote her, an' bein' an orphan, she come out thinkin' she was goin' to a respectable place as waitress, an' Jim he 'lowed it was a case for the law. He was a little shy of twenty at the time, just a young cockerel 'bout brillin' size. Some of the old hangers on 'bout the place they see a heap of fun in Jim's takin' on 'bout the girl, he bein' that young that he had scarce growned a pair of spurs yet. An' one of 'em says to him, 'Sonny, if you're afereed that this yere corral is injurious to the young lady's morals, we'll call in the gospel sharp if you'll stand for the brand.' Now Jim hadn't a cent nor no callin' nor a prospect to his back, but he strutted up to the man that was doin' the talkin', game as a bantam, an' he says, 'The lady ain't rakin' in anything but a little white chip in takin' me, but if she's willin' here's my hand.'"

"At which that pore young thing cried harder than ever. Well, Jim he up an' marries the girl an' it turns out fine. He gets a job herdin' sheep on shares, an' she stays with the Rodney outfit till he saves enough to build a cabin. Things is goin' with Jim like a prairie afire. In a few years he acquires a herd of his own, a fine herd, not a scabby sheep in the bunch. Alda she makes him the best kind of a wife, them kids is the pride of his life, an' then them cattlemen do for him. Of course he takes to rustlin'. I'd do more'n rustle if they'd touch mine."

A NEW PRECEDENT

For First Time in History
President Is Absent From American Soil.

NOW ON THE HIGH SEAS

Return Journey to the National Capital Being Made on the Armored Cruiser West Virginia.

By Wireless Telegraphy the People Will Be Kept in Touch With Their Chief Magistrate.

New Orleans, Oct. 27.—At the end of nine strenuous hours of varied entertainment in New Orleans which brought his exceptionally pleasant trip through the South to a close, President Roosevelt last night boarded the lighthouse tender Magnolia and began the first stage of his return journey to the national capital. At daylight today he was successfully transferred to the armored cruiser West Virginia, which was waiting at anchor off the mouth of the river to receive him, and the second stage of the journey began. For four days he will be absent from American soil, which has never heretofore happened to a president during his incumbency, but through the means of wireless telegraphy it is promised that he will be seldom out of communication with the shore.

The president's New Orleans reception was a signal testimonial of popular esteem and of grateful recognition of the service which he had rendered the city in her period of stress. New Orleans remembered not only that the president had acted with characteristic promptness when asked to send federal surgeons to take charge of the fever struggle, but that throughout the fight he had sustained the people of the stricken city with expressions of unflinching sympathy, and when a large share of opinion in the country opposed his venturing into New Orleans with the fever still prevalent, he refused to consider the element of personal danger and declared his purpose to keep the promise he made when he accepted the original invitation to come. The densely crowded streets, the elaborate decorations, the wild applause that greeted him along the whole route of the parade, the enthusiasm with which his address to the multitude in Lafayette Square was received, and the remarkable demonstration in his honor at the luncheon were outward manifestations of the spirit in which the people welcomed him.

Probably for the first time in his public career the president was compelled to abandon a public address before he had got well started on it. It was contemplated that the military and civic parade should pass in review before the president at the city hall, but the crowd which gathered at this point was so tremendous that neither the police nor the troops were able to move it, and the president, foreseeing a possible catastrophe in the event of a panic, finally gave up the attempt to speak and left the platform. The crowd jammed St. Charles street from property-line to property-line all the way from Poydras to Ninth streets, and it spread over Lafayette Square almost from St. Charles to Camp streets. Probably 50,000 people were gathered in and around the stand from which the president was to have delivered the address. When the president decided to abandon his effort he shouted to the throng to go home and be good citizens, and then disappeared into the mayor's parlors well-nigh exhausted. To those about him he expressed himself as immensely pleased with the demonstration in his honor, which was far beyond his expectations or the expectations of the members of his party, and said that the reception was the greatest that he had had since he started on his trip.

The demonstration at the luncheon was scarcely less exuberant. When the president entered the superbly decorated dining hall the 425 banquet-ers rose as one man and gave way to frantic cheers. Every reference of Governor Blanchard, Mayor Behrman and President Sanders, of the Progressive Union, to the guest, brought forth a perfect storm of cheering, and when the president himself arose he had great difficulty in speaking. Every thought he uttered was the signal for an extraordinary exhibition of enthusiasm, and as his speech dealt almost entirely with local subjects and had special reference to the fight against yellow fever, the banquet developed into an unceasing ovation while the president was on his feet. An immense chowd packed Gravier and St. Charles streets as the dinner ended, and the appearance of the president on his way to the river provoked thunderous applause. The cheers lasted all the way from the hotel to the river front. As the Magnolia left her landing a presidential salute was fired and the indescribable din of the whistles of the factories and river craft mingled with the lusty cheering of acres of people who had collected on the wharf.

From the moment of his arrival early in the forenoon until he said farewell from the deck of the Magnolia at night he was constantly in the limelight. The crowded program gave him no opportunity for rest. But there was every evidence in his expressions to those who were with him throughout the day and in his acknowledgment of the popular demonstration that met him on every hand of the keen enjoyment he found in his visit. Nowhere did the president see the slightest evidence of the existence of any remnants of the fever.

PROPER PUNISHMENT
Violators of Pure Food Law Fined and Imprisoned.

Philadelphia, Oct. 27.—The cases of Burt & Dennis, grocers, and Frederick Hall, local manager for Swift & Co., charged with furnishing impure food to the League Island navy yard, came up before Judge McMichael in the criminal court. John P. Burt and William H. Dennis, trading as Burt & Dennis, were charged with supplying oleomargarine to the navy yard as a substitute for butter. They pleaded guilty and were fined $250 and costs and sentenced to sixty days in the county prison. The charge against Hall was that of furnishing to the contractor who supplies the station sausage containing a preservative injurious to health. The contractor when arrested said he had the assurance of Swift & Co., that the meat contained nothing prohibited by the pure food laws of Pennsylvania. An effort was recently made by the company to have the case withdrawn, President Swift stating to Governor Pennypacker that he was unaware of any adulteration and that the firm had no intention of violating the state food laws.

Counsel for Mr. Hall argued that there was no criminal intent upon the part of his client and stated that he would take exception to the theory of the commonwealth that boric acid is injurious to health. It was admitted that the specimen of sausage analyzed by Prof. C. B. Cochran, chemist for the state dairy and food department, was sold to the League Island navy yard by Swift & Co. Professor Cochran testified that the meat contained not less than two-tenths of one per cent of boric acid and not more than one-half of one per cent. Expert testimony was taken to show that boric acid is injurious to health. At the conclusion of the testimony Hall was fined $100, the cost of prosecution and expense of the analysis.

SPIRIT OF REFORM

Many Indiana Cities Getting in Line For Purer Elections.

GRAFTERS DISMAYED

These Gentry and "Floaters" Find
Cold Comfort in the Conditions
That Confront Them.

A Sign of the Times That Speaks
Well For the Civic Sense of Hoosiers.

Indianapolis, Oct. 27.—A spirit of election reform has struck the state harder than expected. There are a number of cities in which the floaters and the more skillful grafters will not get much comfort in the present plans are carried out. In Tipton, for instance, the candidates on the rival city tickets have agreed not to "thaw" even for a cigar, and to cut out all old-time practices that candidates have heretofore been compelled to resort to. At Columbus an agreement was made several days ago not to spend any money on floaters—in fact, to cut out the use of money except for legitimate campaign purposes. Crawfordsville has joined the procession, and it is said that 1,000 floaters there are dismayed at the outlook. At Greencastle it is likely that a similar agreement will be reached by the Republicans and Democrats. The candidates on the Republican and Democratic tickets at Rushville have signed an iron-clad agreement not to buy votes or to haul any voters to the polls. It is probable that several other cities will get into the reform wagon before election day. It is not known what has caused the election reform wave, but it is spreading very rapidly and for the first time in many years Indiana will have some clean municipal elections.

It Looks Like Jerome.

New York, Oct. 27.—The executive committee of the Republican county committee decided at a special meeting last evening to call a county convention for this evening to name a candidate for district attorney to replace Charles A. Flammer, who Wednesday resigned his candidacy. The committee also decided to advise that William Travers Jerome be named as the candidate. Every man on the committee voted for Jerome with one exception.

IT DRAWS HARD

On a woman's vitality to do work for which she is unfitted, and we wonder how some of our land live through a single season of pleasure or dissipation.

They will say with tears in their eyes, when they mention the subject at all, "it is a hard pull," that with pain, weakness and weariness they are "almost dragged out."

Many, in this conditional advance in the price of wheat at Chicago, resort to alcoholic stimulants and "invigorants," the after effects of which are very injurious.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, forty years ago found that women were being mistreated through ignorance or carelessness and determined to devote his life and energies to their relief.

Having found the cause of their suffering, he next sought for the means of relief, and found in Nature's laboratory—the earth, certain roots which had remarkable and valuable medicinal virtues for the cure of these ailments.

Using chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength instead of alcohol, he prepared extracts of these, and the result was so satisfactory that the combination became his "Favorite Prescription."

The roots used are: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root and Golden Seal root. The world knows it as Dr. Pierce's FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION, which has the wonderful and unparalleled record of a half-million of cures in the last forty years.

Write to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for advice, given without charge.

"I am glad to be able to testify as to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the many ills that women suffer with," writes Miss Gertrude Mitchell (President Young Ladies Christian Endeavor Society), 44 Columbia street, E. Detroit, Mich. "At many years of suffering and pain, I took your medicine, and in a short time began to feel stronger, became more regular and didn't have the bearing-down pains which had been my lot for so long. Shall never cease to be very grateful that it was brought to my notice. I have no pains, and feel much stronger generally."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cleanse the clogged system from accumulated impurities.

MOTHERHOOD

Actual Sterility in Women Is Very Rare—Healthy Mothers and Children Make Happy Homes.

Many women long for a child to bless their homes, but because of some defect or displacement of the female organs they are barren.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire female organism, curing all displacements, ulceration and inflammation.

A woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. Is not that an incentive to prepare for a healthy maternity?

If expectant mothers would fortify themselves with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for thirty years has sustained thousands of women in this condition, there would be a great decrease in miscarriages, in suffering, and in disappointments at birth.

The following letters to Mrs. Pinkham demonstrate the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in such cases.

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President of Milwaukee Business Woman's Association, of 614 Grove Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I was married for several years and no children blessed our home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. For months I took his medicines, trying in vain for a cure, but at last my husband became disgusted and suggested that I

HON. F. A. COTTON, superintendent of public instruction, has issued a bulletin entitled "Education Through the Newspapers." Mr. Cotton pays tribute to the press and says that "very little could be done in public education without the aid of the newspapers." He says the newspapers are "always to be found in sympathy with educational movements and give their columns freely to anything pertaining to the subject." Here is an educational leader who knows the value of letting people know through the newspapers what is going on in educational circles. Every school board in the state and other school officers and the teachers should read this bulletin two or three times. School boards especially need to be less exclusive.

CATARRH THE PLAGUE OF WINTER

Every Catarrh sufferer dreads the return of cold weather, for at the first cold breath of the season this plague of Winter is fanned into life with all its miserable symptoms. The nostrils are stopped up, and a constant dripping of mucus back into the throat keeps up a continual hawking and spitting, the patient has dull headaches, ringing noises in the ears and a half sick, depressed feeling all the time. Every inner lining and tissue of the body becomes inflamed, and secretes an unhealthy matter which is absorbed into the blood and distributed to all parts of the body, and the disease becomes constitutional. The catarrhal poison brings on stomach troubles, affects the kidneys and bladder, attacks the soft bones of the throat and head and if not checked leads to Consumption. A disease so deep-seated and dangerous cannot be washed out, neither can it be smoked away. Sprays, washes, inhalations, etc., are useless, because they only reach the membranes and tissues, while the real cause of the disease is in the blood. S. S. S. cures Catarrh because it attacks it through the blood; it goes into the circulation and drives out all unhealthy accumulations and catarrhal matter, and when this is done every part of the system receives a supply of rich, pure blood. Then the inflamed membranes and tissues heal, all discharge ceases, the depressed feeling of the body is relieved, and every symptom passes away. S. S. S. goes to the very root of the trouble, and by purifying and enriching the blood and building up the entire system, cures Catarrh permanently. If you have Catarrh do not waste time with local remedies, but begin S. S. S. and write for our book and any medical advice without charge.

A Session of Just One Hour Last Night.

The city council met last night and transacted routine business and gave attention to such other matters as came up for action. The mayor and all the councilmen were present.

He requested the clerk to read communications from architect and contractor for new city building. Mr. Massman made a statement of work done on building and material on the ground and asked that an allowance be made. Architect also asked for part payment on his contract. These requests are in accordance with the provisions of contracts always entered into. Chairman Mills requested that the council place at the disposal of the building committee to meet these and other bills as they arise about two thousand dollars. This was done by ordinance as the new law requires.

The engineer reported that the grade of the alley being opened from Meyers to Broadway would need some special attention and suggested that the matter be referred to grade committee. So ordered.

Street commissioner reported work done by him the past two weeks.

The light committee was instructed to make a report on are lights petitioned for on North Ewing and North Broadway at next council meeting.

The water committee reported that after much persistent effort they had secured an agreement from the Water Company to raise the four hydrant found too low, the same to be done at the Company's expense. The committee also reported that the company would remove the two hydrants from the S. I. yards and place one at the corner of Sixth and Popular and the other at Myers and Hill street as ordered. Also to move the hydrant from Circle and Broadway south to a point to be designated by the water committee. This work of relocating hydrants to be done at city's expense. Report agreed to by the unanimous vote of the council.

Bretthauer presented a petition signed by property owners affected for opening and maintaining an alley beginning 160 feet west of the northeast corner of outlot 1, in Butler's first addition on the south line of McDonald street, thence south 528 feet to an alley, thence west 16 feet, thence north 528 feet to the south line of McDonald street thence east to place of beginning. This was followed by an ordinance granting the prayers of the petitioners, which was put on the first reading.

Love introduced an ordinance as required by the new law, appropriating $300 to defray expense of city election. Ordinance was advanced and adopted under suspension of rules.

On motion of Gibson the city clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for putting in a concrete walk along Mrs. Applewhite's property on east Laurel street.

OLD AGE.

Our Local Druggists Tell People of Seymour How to Ward it Off.

Some people at fifty call themselves old, and really appear so, while others at seventy seem active, vigorous and young.

A reporter of the REPUBLICAN happened in the store of the W. F. Peter Drug Co., the other evening, and this subject was brought up. Said Mr. Peter of the above firm, "It is a fact and we see it illustrated every day right here in Seymour. It is not years; old age does not begin at any set time, but it is loss of vital force that makes a person old. A severe sickness, weakened digestion, thin blood, or poor circulation soon starts vitality on the wane and then a person rapidly ages."

"On the other hand," continued Mr. Peter, "if the people of Seymour only knew how our cod liver preparation, Vinol, wards off old age, we would not have clerks enough in our store to supply the demand."

"You see, Vinol contains all the vitality making, body-building principles of cod liver oil, but without a drop of the system-clogging oil. I strengthen digestive organs, makes rich red blood, repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength."

"One good customer of Vinol, who is seventy-eight years of age, says he would not take $1000 for the good it has done him, and we wish every aged person in Seymour would try Vinol on our guarantee to return money if it fails." W. F. Peter Drug Co.

A Daredevil Ride

Open ended in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Soothers and heals burns, scalds, etc. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Convention Closed.

The annual convention of the Seymour District of the W. F. M. S. came to a close at the First Methodist church at three o'clock this afternoon. The meetings have proved helpful and pleasant to the thirty-nine delegates and the members of the Seymour society.

Mrs. Stevens, returned missionary from Poona, India, gave an interesting address last evening on the famine sufferers and the work that has been done for them in India. The Klugs Herald gave two most enjoyable numbers of the program yesterday afternoon. Miss Rebecca Daily this morning finished her most instructive explanation of the new year text book, "Christus Liberator."

Mrs. Rev. Murr, of Charlestown, was elected corresponding secretary of the district. Miss Dixon, corresponding secretary of the Conference, was present and stated that the Seymour district has within the last year made the largest increase in auxiliary work of any district in the conference. The pledge for the next was raised to $2000, an increase of $500 over last year. Columbus was chosen as the place of meeting for 1906.

Engagement Cancelled.

The engagement of the Brehme's Vaudeville Company for three nights beginning next Monday has been cancelled and this company will appear here at a later date. This action was necessary on account of the moving picture machine being put out of service by an accident yesterday. Watch papers for a later date.

Cheated Death

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says, "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since I find they have no equal." W. F. Peter Drug Co. guarantee them at 50c.

North Dakota Turnip.

Elder Thos. Jones brought to the REPUBLICAN office today a turnip that weighs 10½ pounds. It was grown in the sod in North Dakota and is a fair sample of the products of that rich soil.

Charles Adams and wife went to Indianapolis this morning in response to a message announcing the serious condition of her father, Daniel Denison, who has been in the Central hospital for some months.

PUPILS EYES.

May Have to Undergo an Examination.

Believing that the children of the State who are attending the schools are misunderstood and are subjected to a certain amount of abuse on account of defective hearing or bad eyesight, the State Board of Health will endeavor to have a physical examination of each.

While the board will not issue an order of this kind it will urge all superintendents of schools to begin an investigation at once of the eye-sight and hearing of pupils. The board has made suggestions concerning this question to the county superintendents.

The secretary of the State Board of Health declares that 40 per cent, of the children of the Indiana schools have defective eyesight and that 5 per cent have bad hearing.

"Many a child has been abused on account of this trouble," the Secretary says. "For instance a teacher has the child at the black-board and is trying to work out a problem or is giving a lesson in grammar or rhetoric. The teacher writes on the board and then calls the child's attention to it. The pupil does not 'see' the point simply because his vision is bad and the teacher becomes impatient and declares the child is stupid. The same situation prevails where the child has bad hearing. The teacher is not aware of the fact and becomes vexed when the pupil does not seem to understand. The thing to do is to have all children examined and in cases where these defects are found to send them to the oculist at once."

Cases Venued.

A case in which Oscar Montgomery as administrator of the estate of Alfred W. Mills, former Mayor of Seymour, seeks to recover $1,200 alleged to be due the Mills estate from the Federal Life Insurance Company on a policy, was today venued to the Bartholomew circuit court. It is set forth in the petition that a policy for $1,000 was duly executed and delivered to Alfred Mills on the 16th of July, 1889, and that Mills died on the 12th of December, 1904; also that the Federal Insurance Company has neglected and refused to pay the amount of the policy to the Mills estate.

The case of Jacob L. Bridges against the DeFleur & Swain Lumber Company has also been venued from Jackson county. The plaintiff asks for $5,000 damages for the loss of all the fingers of his left hand while operating a saw in the defendant's mill. —Columbus Herald

OSTEOPATHY.

Reasons Why This Treatment Should Be Tried.

So many ask why they should try Osteopathy rather than some other method of treating disease that we give the following reasons.

1. The percentage of Osteopathic cures is greater than any other system.
 2. Most of the Osteopathic cures are made when all else has failed.
 3. It cures many troubles that medicine can not.
 4. Osteopathic treatment is absolutely safe.
 5. Osteopathy does not produce one disease to cure another.
 6. Osteopathy removes the cause of disease.
 7. Improvement continues after the treatment is discontinued and the cure is permanent.
 8. The system is not saturated with dangerous drugs.
 9. Osteopathy is more pleasant to take than any other treatment.
 10. The method of Osteopathic treatment appeals to the common sense of intelligent people.
 11. Thousands who have tried Osteopathy are enthusiastic in its praise.
 12. The charges are reasonable.
 13. The most intelligent people are believers in Osteopathic practice.
 14. Osteopathy has been considered in over half the states and not a single law has been passed against it.
 15. Governors, legislators, judges, authors and all classes of people are its adherents.
 16. The practitioners are educated people with a large experience in the treatment of disease.
 17. Possibly your chronic trouble will never be relieved by medical means.
 18. You can not afford to neglect this means of relief.—Iowa Journal.

CITY IN A PANIC

St. Petersburg Aroused by Alarms of the Direst Sort.

TO AVOID A CONFLICT

The Government's Aim Now Seems to Be to Avoid a Repetition of "Bloody Sunday."

Strikers Allowed to Vent Their Enthusiasm, But Gen. Treppoff Is Watching Things.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 27.—St. Petersburg is in a panic, but to a large extent apparently without reason. The most alarming rumors are in circulation and the shopkeepers on all except a few of the principal streets have closed their stores and boarded up the doors and windows, while peaceful-minded inhabitants keep within doors. Anxiety is evidenced in the whole atmosphere of the city, but so far nothing has occurred to justify these fears. There are no disorders.

General Treppoff, who has been placed in command of the St. Petersburg garrison and given an additional division of reinforcements, declared that he is amply able to maintain order, and the police are allowing the strikers to vent their enthusiasm so as to avoid a conflict. General Treppoff instructed the police not to interfere with the parades so long as they were orderly, but he gave notice that he was prepared to cope firmly with any disorder. He had printed in all the papers a notification that the troops would be ordered to use ball cartridges without any preliminary firing of blank cartridges in case there should be any outbreak.

By the greatest exertion the government has succeeded in moving trains manned by military operatives on a few railroads. Traffic was resumed irregularly on the Moscow and St. Petersburg railroad, and on lines from Moscow to Brest and Kazan. The first efforts were directed to the moving of cattle trains so as to meet the pinch of approaching famine in the two capitals, and one trainload of cattle arrived at St. Petersburg and another at Moscow. Peasants are also driving cattle on the hoof into Moscow. A scanty supply of milk, butter and eggs is arriving in St. Petersburg over the Finland railroad, the employees of which refuse to strike. The situation, however, cannot be regarded as much improved. The strikers are as determined as ever to continue the strike and the full force of the government railroad battalion is almost helpless in the face of the general strike on the railroads. The most encouraging feature of the situation is the absence of any widespread disorder.

Apprehension apparently prevails in imperial circles. It is reported that the imperial yacht Polar Star is lying off Cronstadt constantly under steam, and that the smaller yacht Stella is held in waiting at the wharf at Peterhof for emergency use.

COULDN'T AGREE

Delegates to Interstate Commerce Law Convention Split.

Chicago, Oct. 27.—Refusing to stand for President Roosevelt's policy for the regulation of railroad rates, a large number of delegates to the interstate commerce law convention were barred from the convention of that organization and thereupon held a separate meeting to give expression to their ideas on the subject. The original convention was held in Steinway hall, while the "anti" convention met in Music hall, several blocks distant.

Aware of alleged attempts to thwart the purpose of the convention, the delegates at Steinway hall refused to admit delegates, although properly accredited, unless they would agree to support the president's rate plan. These delegates objected to the proceeding, demanding they be given the right of free speech, while the opposition charged they were sent by the railroads and other alleged unfair interests to pack the convention. A number of exciting scenes followed before the meetings were called to order in the conventions of both sides. The number of delegates to each convention was about equal, ranging between 400 and 500. Speeches, organization and resolutions, including one which was presented in the Music hall convention asking the president to settle the dispute as to which was the regular convention, but upon which no action was taken, took up the time of the first meetings of the conventions. The conventions are in session today and resolutions will be adopted by the Steinway hall convention in favor of the president's policy.

Cuban Conspiracy Alleged.

A WAY OPEN.

Many A Seymour Reader Knows It Well.

There is a way open to convince the greatest skeptic. Scores of Seymour people have made it possible. The public statement of their experience is proof of the like of which has never been produced before in Seymour. Read this case of it given by a citizen:

Mrs. Atlas Shannon of Third street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills gave me positive relief from the dull dragging pain in my back, banished the extreme sensitiveness over the loins which caused sharp twinges when stooping or moving quickly and removed the restlessness nights besides strengthening the renal organs that I was no longer embarrassed by the kidney secretions. I was greatly gratified by the satisfactory results I obtained and my advice to others is to go to Milhous drug store and procure Doan's Kidney Pills if in need of a remedy of this nature."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

INSANITY PLEA FAILED

John Mauzy Convicted at Warsaw of Murdering Sweetheart.

Warsaw, Ind., Oct. 27.—John Mauzy was found guilty of murder, the sentence calling for life imprisonment. He was indicted for killing his sweetheart, Miss Hattie Foster, who was shot in broad daylight in one of the busiest streets of the city, a hundred persons and more witnessing the tragedy. He offered no resistance to arrest. Miss Foster had accepted his attentions, but finally discarded him because of his dissipated habits. He asserted at the time that he intended taking his own life, but after he had shot Miss Foster he found that his ammunition was exhausted.

Miss Foster died three days after the shooting, and Mauzy's mother, overcome with nervous prostration because of her son's terrible act, died within three weeks. During the trial the plea of insanity was advanced, which the jury refused to accept, while the state showed that the crime was premeditated, and that Mauzy boasted several times of his purpose to kill the girl.

Aged Couple Suffocated.

Wolcottville, Ind., Oct. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. David Lower, aged eighty-eight and eighty-two respectively, were suffocated in their home by the fumes from a coal stove. They were well known and highly respected people. One son survives.

A Child and a Gun.

Cannelton, Ind., Oct. 27.—Lula Fishback, thirteen years old, of this city, playfully pointed a shotgun at her sister Maggie, eleven years old, remarking, "I'm going to shoot you." The weapon was accidentally discharged, the lead striking Maggie in the head and killing her instantly. The mother of the girl witnessed the tragedy, and was unconscious for several hours, while the daughter responsible for the death with difficulty was prevented from throwing herself into the Ohio river. The father was under arrest and in jail at the time, but he was released that he might visit his stricken family.

Baseball Law Valid.

Indianapolis, Oct. 27.—The fine and judgment imposed by the Hancock circuit court upon James Heigert for playing baseball on Sunday has been affirmed by Judge Roby of the appellate court. The offense for which Heigert was fined was committed Sept. 11, 1904. Heigert's attorneys showed that although the ball grounds in which the game was played was inclosed, it was possible for spectators to witness the game from three sides without paying. They insisted that under the statute the offense does not exist if a game can be seen gratuitously by part of the spectators.

Sat Down on the Track.

Cicero, Ind., Oct. 27.—Thos. Smith, forty-two years old, of Sheridan, visited Noblesville to pay his taxes, drinking to excess while in that city. While walking homeward, and near this place, he sat down on the Lake Erie & Western railway tracks, and a passing train literally tore him to pieces. He leaves a widow and five children.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living, no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

Emperor William Is Getting His Fighting Clothes On.

Berlin, Oct. 27.—Recent events apparently have turned the thoughts of Emperor William toward the probability of Germany soon becoming involved in war. His speeches at Dresden Wednesday and in Berlin yesterday contained pointed references to the probability of war and the necessity of being ready for it. Addressing the officers of a Saxon grenadier regiment at Dresden, the emperor said: "We live in a time when a young German capable of bearing arms must be ready to give himself to the fatherland."

At a banquet given in his honor in the Dresden schloss the emperor, replying to the king's toast to his health, said: "If the German empire continues to prosper, then we can calmly, with raised visor and with the courage of free German men, confront anyone who should venture to cross our path or to disturb us in the promotion of our reasonable interests."

After unveiling the statue of Field Marshal Von Moltke yesterday, his majesty addressed the highest army officers, who were assembled around him at a dinner at the schloss, saying:

"How matters stand with us in the world you have seen. Therefore keep your powder dry and your swords
